The Future of National, Regional and Global (Dis)order: Exclusive Populism versus Inclusive Global Governance

H.E. Prof. Dr. Ahmet Davutoglu

Former Prime Minister of the Republic of Turkey

トルコ前首相 アフメト・ダウトオール氏

今回は、昨年までトルコ首相を務め、政治学、国際関係学の教授としてのキャリアも持つアフメト・ダウトオール氏をお招きし、現代社会が直面する深刻な危機と、未来へのビジョン、新しいリーダーシップのあり方をお話いただきます。

We are honored to welcome a Special Guest, the former Prime Minister and Foreign Minister of Turkey, to deliver a lecture on the alarming crisis facing the contemporary global society, and possible steps forward to a more stable future.

Drawing from His Excellency's historic career as a distinguished politician and thinker of the world on the global stage, as well as his long-held experience in the field of academia, in which he taught Political Science and International Relations, Prof. Dr. Davutoglu will address the current global political and humanitarian order/disorder, offering a unique perspective. Needless to say, with new regional conflicts, unprecedented number of refugees, and the rise of populist nationalism, all posing new threats to the stability of the world, the stakes couldn't be higher. What is the way forward? What kind of vision, values, and new norms of governance will be needed for a World Order that is inclusive and just? Come join the former Prime Minister and Foreign Minister and hear his very unique perspective on this very timely and crucial topic.
